(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Masked like old time train robbers, five bandits today held up a registered mail carrier and his guard just across the street from the federal building and escaped with notes and securities estimated to be worth at least $1, 000,000.

This, the most daring robbery in Chicago for many years, required less than a minute. With calculated precision the gang surrounded the messenger and his escort, disarmed the guard, and seized two mail sacks. Throwing these into the rear of a light car, they drove away and were out of sight before an alarm could be given.

Mail For Banks

One sack contained 123 pieces of registered mail for the First National bank, and the other contained 40 pieces for the First Union Trust and Savings bank. The usual morning delivery of registered mail to these banks totals from $500,000 to $1,000,- 000.

Federal authorities said it would be 24 hours before the value of the loot could be approximated. Ordinarily, the mail contains but little currency.

Fred Voelsch, who has delivered bank mail for sixteen years, left the Federal building at 7 a. m. with the sacks slung over his shoulder. Three paces behind walked Frank Stasny, the guard, a former army man.

GENEVA, Dec. 6.—With the special assembly of the League of Nations ready to meet today for consideration of the Lytton report on Manchuria, Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese delegate, revealed he has a far-reaching plan for establishment of peace in the Far East.

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, Matsuoka declared he wished to discuss this plan with President-elect Roosevelt when he returns to Japan from Geneva via the United States.

Will Visit Roosevelt

"When I pass through the United States I will call on Mr. Roosevelt, if it seems the proper thing to do at the time," Matsuoka said.

"I have a vital question to discuss with him relative to establishment of real peace in the Far East."

Matsuoka revealed his plan envisaged establishment of confidence and co-operation between the powers surrounding the Pacific ocean.

"There are three real Pacific powers," he said. "These are the United States, Russia and Japan. They are the ones who must make peace in the orient."

"We need to establish mutual confidence to satisfy one another's economic interests."

(Special To The News),
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec.

called "Congress Dances" and it pleased everybody. Monday night our Congress met and pleased nobody. Forty-six Democrats, mostly lame ducks were the villains.

In November the country went overwhelmingly wet, but 98 Republicans and 46 Democrats figured that the country didn't know what it wanted. So that means an extra session of Congress.

Regardless of what your opinion is on this subject, but when you absolutely know that it will eventually pass, then to purpose hold it up and cost the government all this money, then you are a "lame duck," but not in the leg.

long detours to the Wampum road

The new bridge is one of the finest pieces of bridge construction in concrete it replaces the old bridge which was narrow, unsafe and dan-bridge are in sweeping curves which will obviate the traffic hazard which always existed on the old bridge.

SPECIAL CONGRESS SESSION IS FORECAST

Roosevelt Will Likely Issue Call

Democrats Want Special Session To Take Action On Prohibition Issue

DISAPPOINTED AT REPEAL FAILURE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A special session of the new 73d congress after March 4 to deal with prohibition appeared inevitable today as a result of the failure of the house to accept the Garner repeal submission resolution.

Democratic leaders generally predicted that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt will issue the special session call after his inauguration if the "lame duck" session leaves the question unanswered.

There is a possibility, though remote, that the house would act again on submission of repeal.

Speaker Garner said he would permit the question to be raised if enough members who voted dry yesterday change their votes to assure passage, or if the senate passes an outright repeal resolution to carry out the Democratic platform.

The Garner resolution received 272 votes to 144 against in the house, so that a switch of six votes would make possible victory for the wets.

Demand Outlawing Of Saloon
Senate Democrats will decide their policy at a caucus tomorrow. It appears likely the senate would modify any outright repeal resolution presented and ignore Garner's condition.

The Senate Democratic leaders insist that any repeal resolution provide that the federal government will protect dry states against importation of liquor. This provision is asked despite the fact that the Webb-Kenyon law now gives that protection.

Demand also is being voiced by some Democrats for inclusion of a provision outlawing the saloon.

Meantime, the fight over beer and light wines will be opened in the house tomorrow when the ways and means committee begins hearings.

Rep. Collier (D) of Mississippi, chairman, planned to call secretary of the treasury Ogden Mills as the first witness.

Mills will be asked directly if President Hoover will veto a beer bill. Republican leaders on Capitol Hill understand he will.

The newly-formed "wine bloc" also will make its demand that naturally fermented light wines be legalized.

Leaders of the house "wet bloc" settled on a 3.20 per cent beer bill, as compared to the former 2.75 per cent demand.

Rep. Rainey of Illinois, Democratic leader, said the vote on the repeal resolution forecast passage of a beer bill within three weeks.

He declared that "lame ducks," or defeated members, killed the Garner repeal resolution. The record showed that the dry margin of "lame ducks" was sufficient to account for the resolution's failure.

state finance; worked closely with the state tax commission in 1925-1927; and is an active member of the executive committee on school finance, recently appointed by superintendent of public instruction, J. N. Rule.

Dr. Fox appeared here late last spring in a talk in which he showed the current trend in increased taxation and pointed out the necessity for reduction, both state and local.

At that time, the local Chamber of Commerce named a tax committee, which has been quietly working, investigating tax problems, and perfecting an organization.

The appointment of President L. G. Genkinger of the Chamber of Commerce as county chairman to organize a state-wide organization, has resulted in an organization being formed in the county, known as the Lawrence County State Tax committee members of the executive committee of which are: L. G. Genkinger, and Thomas W. Dickey of the Chamber; Howell T. Getty of New Wilmington; N. E. Sampson of Volant; Edward J. Davis of the New Castle Tax Payers League; Dr. Frederick Taylor, who with Mr. Sampson represents the Lawrence County Agriculture Extension Association; J. Audley Boak and A. H. Fullerton of the Lawrence County Pomona Grange, John W. Pattison of the Tax Justice League and Carl C. Davidson of Ellwood City.

Public Is Invited.

Invitations have been extended to representatives of all service and civic clubs in the county as well as other citizens to attend Thursday evening's meeting.

Thursday, December 8, has been designated as Lawrence County Tax Day in the county, as two meetings have also been called earlier in the day by the Tax Justice League.

The first will be a meeting of the executive committee of the League at 10:30 in the court house, followed by an open meeting in the court house at 2:30.

The Tax Justice League has an impressive program of education and development mapped out during the coming month, when various types of tax will be investigated, so that some comprehensive program may be presented to the legislature at its meeting in January.

The aim of the Tax Justice League is to reduce taxes on property and to spread it around in a more equitable manner.

The Garner resolution received 272 votes to 144 against in the house, so that a switch of six votes would make possible victory for the wets.

After some discussion, the matter was referred to the Athletic committee, as it developed that such permission was granted in the past and no responsible person was in charge of the activities which were carried on. At a result, some damage was done.

Personal liability insurance for the school truck was ordered dropped, as it was pointed out that the school district, under the law, was not responsible for any accidents which might happen and the insurance company would not pay any damage claims if any were incurred. This will save the board $23 per year.

RAINBOW GIRLS EXEMPLIFY WORK

Most outstanding was the exemplification of this initiatory work by the New Castle Assembly No. 1 Order of Rainbow for Girls, which was put on Monday evening before a gathering of eligible friends numbering approximately 400, in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral as the guests of Shenango Chapter, Mrs. Agnes Allen, worthy matron.

Miss Gertrude Falls, worthy advisor in an efficient manner and her officers performed accordingly.

A class of twenty were initiated into the local Assembly, and Mrs. Lenore M. Urey, Senior Past Mother advisor and the First Mother Advisor of the State of Pennsylvania introduced the officers.

Mrs. Lillian Templeton, worthy advisor; and Supreme Deputy, Mrs. Elizabeth Rockenbaugh of the Order of Rainbow for Girls of Pennsylvania, the latter of Philadelphia, shared in the evening's activities as did Mrs. Carolynne Lindsley, District Deputy Grand Matron of District 2B. She represented Mrs. Louise Lindeman, Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter O. E. S. of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Lindsley is also a Past Mother Advisor of the local Assembly.

Shenango Chapter presented officers of the assembly with beautiful bouquets of flowers and dainty wrist corsages, this act being performed by Mrs. Belva Bridenbaugh and Miss Bernice Swanson.

The work of the girls was done beautifully, and those who witnessed it will have lasting memories of this splendid exemplification.

At the close of the services the guests were served a delicious lunch by Shenango Chapter members in the dining room. The committee in charge included Mrs. May Britton, hostess, and aides, Mrs. Martha Erwin, Mrs. Bertha Trese, Mrs. Ferida Drumm, Mrs. Luella Moffatt, Mrs. Barbara Shepard, Mrs. Estella Wedell and Mrs. Ethel Anderson, each of whom had an assistant. Mrs. Myrtle Hildebrand is general chairlady of the refreshment committee.

Special guests were worthy matrons, worthy patrons, and Eastern Star members of the local chapters and others from Cleveland, Youngstown, O., Evans City, Beaver Falls, Philadelphia, Erie and Pittsburgh.

CHINESE ART EXHIBIT DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Most interesting was the opening of the Chinese Art Exhibit on Monday afternoon in the rooms on North Mill street donated by J. R. Frew by Mrs. Paul D. Faris of Pittsburgh. This display of exquisite pieces of Chinese jewelry, robes, wall hangings, and numerous other valuable articles was brought to New Castle by local Art Club members through the cooperation of Mrs. John Charles Runk, chairman of the art division of the South Western District of the Federation.

Mrs. Faris lectured about the designs used on Chinese garments etc., each having a meaning; she told of her going to China as a bride, and having mingled among these people for a period of ten years, had the advantage of studying their customs, pieces of art, the way in which they make their garments etc.

At 4 o'clock, tea was served by the club door members of the Art Club. Mrs. A. C. McCoy was chairman and she had as aides Mrs. J. A. McNeill, Mrs. Irvine Balph, Mrs. E. C. Beahm, Mrs. E. J. Conner, Mrs. T. I. Elliott, Mrs. William Hodgkinson, Mrs. Glenn Berry and Mrs. George Knox. Those presiding at the beautifully appointed tea table and poured were Mrs. Frank Burton and Mrs. W. W. Sniff.

A novel feature was the registration book made by Mrs. Joe Pyle and Mrs. B. Keagy, done in green with a huge gold dragon, on the front cover. The exhibition continues throughout the week.

YUCATAN CLUB GUESTS MONDAY EVENING
Most delightful was the meeting of the Yucatan Club members held at the home of Mrs. E. D. Jackson on North Mercer street, with Mrs. W. B. Gormley as associate hostess.

Eight tables of cards were in play as the main pastime, and following the contests a delicious lunch was served.

In two weeks the members will be entertained in the home of Frank and Mae Hoyt on Winter avenue.

Juanitas Christmas Party
Mrs. William Naysmith of Ray street entertained the Juanita Club members in her home Friday evening. Business items were discussed and plans formulated for a Christmas party to be held December 21 at the home of Mrs. James Burnside. The exchange of gifts will take place at this time.

The hours were devoted to cards, and prizes in 500 were won by Mrs. Mildred Wygant, Mrs. Karl Kirchner and Mrs. E. D. Jackson.

Concluding play the hostess assisted by her daughter Bertha, served a lunch.

On January 13, the club will meet in regular session with Mrs. Wilbur Sloan, Fairmont avenue.

BREAKERS AHEAD?

NOW that the effects of the election have worn off and they are faced with the cold gray dawn of the morning after the guise of the short session of Congress there naturally is not so much unrestrained enthusiasm among Democratic leaders as there was during the few hours following November 8.

They realize of course that there is a great deal of difference between promising and performing. A great deal of reckless promising was done, as is usually the case in heated campaigns and as a result a great many people expected that by the first of the year at least, there would be plenty of beer and prosperity.

Now the Democratic leaders are admitting that it may take a little longer to restore prosperity than March 4, and that perhaps after all the depression is due to natural causes following the World War and not to President Hoover.

The first efforts of the Democratic leaders are being made toward keeping down factional differences so far as possible. Just how effective their measures will be remains to be seen. A great many people in the East are expecting a conservative administration from the new President because of the part Owen D. Young, Baruch and Al Smith took in his campaign. Out on the boundless prairie, however, there is a general expectancy that the new administration will listen to the programs of men like Senator Norris and Senator Wheeler. Somebody is going to be disappointed during the next two years.

Another danger which the Democrats face is that which usually comes from a landslide—and that is an unwieldy majority. Already there are indications that trouble is coming in the shape of visionary proposals to end the depression. These can doubtless be handled in the short session of the old Congress, but when the new Congress begins to function the ship of state will be launched on uncertain waters and uncharted seas. There is little wonder, therefore, that President-elect Roosevelt would like to avoid an extra session if possible.

U. S. AIR STRENGTH

Another war would again find the United States weak in the air in comparison with other major powers, according to F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war in charge of air forces. He appraises his country's air strength as fourth among the nations of the world.

Organization of five additional pursuit squadrons to complete the air defenses in Panama and Hawaii would bring the country's air strength up to that of the present mistress of the air, and this would have been accomplished but for the curtailment of appropriations due to the depression and dwindling public revenues.

In spite of this curtailment the air corps has been carrying out an expansion program, which has already added four pursuit squadrons, two bombardment squadrons and certain auxiliary units to the air defenses. This has made possible for the first time the organization of the service into two complete wings.

The United States today would have 1814 airplanes available in the regular army, national guard and organized reserves—a force capable of overwhelming any air force that could cross the seas or mobilize in Canada or Mexico for an attack upon us. The fact that the country is fourth in air power does not signify that its air defenses are inadequate. There are countries whose national defense requirements necessitate a larger air force.

LOCKS HAVE A PURPOSE

What a shock it must have been to the New York woman who returned to her parked car after two hours of shopping to find that jewelry valued at from $30,000 to $50,000 and securities worth $100,000 had been stolen. Imagine that now, leaving $150,000 in an automobile and disappearing for a two-hour tour of the stores. Picture also the glee of the thief who arrived at all that wealth through the mere twisting off of a door handle. Then be reminded that the practice of leaving valued articles in a parked motor car is entirely too common. Thieves know the practice to be not unusual, take advantage of it, and hardly a day goes by during which the police fail to receive reports of cars having been broken into and things of more or less value taken. Quit the practice and the temptation to burglarize the automobile is lost, the police department is saved much trouble and a source of considerable income to the thief is cut off.

Another thing. Always lock the car securely. The stolen automobile is the favored mode of transportation of the crook, the racketeer, the killer. Make his path as difficult as possible by locking the ignition and the doors. Locked cars can be started, but usually only by the expert mechanic and even he needs time. The criminal seeking means of a quick getaway seldom has much time and neither is he apt to be an expert. He must find a car that stands unlocked. He is in trouble if he can not. It is good advice, then, this urging of the police elsewhere: "Lock your cars."—The Scranton Times.

TECHNOLOGY AND BRIDGE

Technological unemployment is bad enough when it throws 12,000,000 people out of work but when it creates unemployment at the bridge table it is time to curb inventive genius and return to the crude devices of the peace of mind.

One looks with trepidation upon any new device which supplants the human hands, but that isn't the word for the reception the electric bridge table got in serious bridge circles. That reception was an admixture of shock, surprise, anger, terror and disgust. The news was almost unbelievable.

Dealing the cards by electricity is a step in the wrong direction. What bridge needed was not less but more manual effort to keep the tongue idle. Two decks, with one person shuffling with another deals, constituted one of the blessings of the game. It left but one defect, that there were not two more decks to be shuffled or dealt.

All is not lost, however. No machine has yet been brought forth that will play the cards as well as shuffle and deal them. This is something for which all will give thanks. And yet such a machine would be no more welcome to them than to their partners.

Wall Street thief stole $500,000 in bonds the other day. Can't tell just how serious the loss is because we don't know whether the $500,000 represents face value or market value.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

CATFISH AND WATER SKETERS AND SMALL BOYS

We'd go out behind the barn with a fork and a shovel and a tin can and dig for worms. There were lots of them there, big, wriggling fellows, and we'd stick them in the can with a chunk of wet earth . . . Then we'd get a gunny sack and our long bamboo fishing poles and we'd tie the poles to our bicycles—and go catfishing.

The lake was only a couple of miles away. It was muddy and it had reeds along the shore. And the fish in it were sluggish and well fed, but they didn't get many worms, so our bait appealed to them. Usually we'd find an old leaky rowboat somewhere on the bank and we'd borrow that and drift out a ways.

We'd tie a line to the end of the pole and put three or four hooks on the line and attach a cork.

We'd sit until the cork went under, then we'd pull up the pole and there we'd have a big catfish wriggling and cursing his luck, with long whiskers on his face.

We'd fish and we'd fish all the morning and all the afternoon, eating our lunch out there in the boat, filling the sack with catfish, having chores, all obligations to be clean, a good time.

I don't know now why it was a "good time." We didn't want those catfish. They were too hard to skin and they had bones in them and they had a muddy taste . . . But we liked doing it.

The sun was so pleasant on our backs. We were away from all. And we talked.

We talked about everything—about girls, about grownups, about what we were going to be when we were older. And when we ran out of conversation we looked down to the water and observed the water skeeters.

You know what water skeeters are. They have long legs, tiny bodies and they skim so lightly across the water that they never break through and get their feet wet. It doesn't take much to break the surface tension of the water, but a skeeter is so light and so swift that he's safe.

We'd look at them and wonder about them and try to catch them, but it never occurred to us to reflect that in our leaky boat, were living as easily, in those days, as the skeeters were on Warner's lake.

They say that youth is a time of obscure pains and deep unrest, and I know that, in part, it is. And they say, too, that young people cannot know what it is to be positively happy. That may be true, too. I can't tell about that.

But I do know that when we went catfishing on those warm summer days we were easily happy, and we skinned as naturally over life as those skeeters did over the water. We lived in that present, and gave no active thought at all to distressful past or to ominous future.

I have heard, too, that when you dream pleasantly of your youth you are merely trying to escape in memory from the problems of maturity. And that such dreaming has within it some elements of unconscious cowardice.

Very well, believe that if you must. But it seems to me the psychologists might have better things to do than outlawing the memory of those drowsy summer days. They were so pleasant.

WORLD COMMUNICATION.

Modern news transmission from parts of the world met a severe test in reporting the arrival of Amy Johnson Mollison at Cape Town after her record flight from London.

The flash of her arrival was carried on the press wires out of New York just twenty minutes after her arrival in Cape Town, which is 7,000 miles away by direct water route. A cable message from South Africa must travel at least 10,000 miles.

The news was flashed from the landing field to the Cable Office in Cape Town. Thence it travelled by underseas cable to London, by way of Ascension Island in the South Atlantic, St. Vincent, Madeira or the Azores.

It was received in the London Office of the Press Association in fifteen minutes, and was relayed instantly by direct wire to the trans-Atlantic cable head, arriving in the New York office five minutes later.

The deer hunters go wild over deer meat. If they went into a butcher shop and the butcher would sell them some old bull meat that tastes even better than deer meat they would yell for the police and fire department. Deer meat has to be disinfected before it is fit for human consumption and then it only tastes like onions.

Rev. S. C. Gamble's New Book Arrives

A book, just published, "The Letters of Benedictine" written by Samuel C. Gamble, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of Butler, and former pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church of this city, has arrived at The News office as a gift to Fred L. Rentz from the author.

The book is made up of a series of letters, which Dr. William J. Reid, editor, ran in "The United Presbyterian," a denominational paper. These articles give the expression to thoughts in the minds of many pastors, who would like to say many of the things printed in these letters, to individuals and organizations connected with the congregations.

The big hearted and well known minister's sentiments will be heartily "amended" by his brother ministers.

The letters abound in humor, skill, and tact and those who read the book will find a good thing.

In his last letter in the book "Benedictine's farewell" the Rev. Dr. Gamble says "When I started this undertaking I expected to write about 25 letters, but the number has been extended and I have gone well over the hundred mark. Benedictine has a few more letters in his system, but it is a pretty good rule to stop before one has fired the last shot in his locker. To change the figure, no matter how long the freight train may be you eventually see the caboose and this letter may be considered that humdrum object."

The letters include words to the choir, the janitor, the session, a service club, six cups of coffee, a silver wedding anniversary, a young preacher, his mother, his son at college and in this one he quoted a bit of doggerel.

"Westminster is a slot machine, With this as the main feature, Drop almost any fellow in And he comes out a preacher." He writes to old King Death, of his congregational prayer cycle, of his personal workers and many other amusing letters, and many a pleasant hour can be spent in perusing his offering.

Mrs. Lydia Booze of Slippery Rock spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCracken.

The Community Club will hold their regular meeting in the club room on Tuesday December 6.

Mr. and Mrs. John Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. John Hayne were recent shoppers at New Castle.

The primary department of the Sunday school will hold a penny social in the basement of the church Friday evening, December 9.

The regular meeting of the Doreas Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Lydia Lloyd, on Wednesday, December 14. A Christmas exchange will be held.

Mrs. Jack Davis spent several days at New Castle calling on her

Mrs. Arthur Stone and son, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. John Hayne and daughter and William Stone.

On Friday evening, December 16 the members of the Community Club will give an entertainment in the church basement so that some of the children in this community will be able to enjoy Santa Claus. The committee consisting of Rev. W. A. Lloyd, Ralph Cunningham, Barclay Mathieson, George Masters and Floyd Offutt promises a good entertainment of local talent consisting of singing, instrumental music and readings. An offering will be received.

"SO HAPPY THAT I TRIED ALL-BRAN"

Delicious Cereal Brought Relief From Constipation

If you have headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read Mrs. Schneider's letter:

"Since I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I don't have to take anything else for constipation. How good it is, and how much better it is for constipation than pills or any other medicine."

"I would never go back to what I used to take, because Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is wholesome and healthful."

Mrs. John Schneider, 950 Tenth Street, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs — so often habit-forming. Two tablespoonsfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

Building Wreckers Here For Kutsche, Bid On Razing Job

Michigan Callers Go Over Old Buildings, Then Wire In Estimate

A move interpreted as another step closer to actual demolition of those public square buildings that stand upon the site where New Castle's new post office will begin to rise within several months was reported by Postmaster Lake S. MacNab to have been made over the week-end.

Two Michigan building wreckers, it was said, came here to inspect the old Diamond buildings with their chief object the estimation of a bid for the removal of the blocks.

With Assistant Postmaster James G. Leslie the two made a thorough tour of the buildings, now under government supervision, and later wired to A. W. Kutsche and Company, Detroit, their bid for removing the buildings. It is reported that the Kutsche firm, low bidders for the construction contract, desired their estimate immediately.

It is believed the visiting men represented a Michigan firm of building wreckers.

Postmaster MacNab, however, said had no definite information as to why they came. He added that no jobs have as yet been or will be offered to unemployed at the post office here by any of the negotiations. The construction firm will do the hiring.

Auto Death Toll In State For 9 Months Lower Than Year Ago

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—The first nine months of 1932 show a total of 1,360 automobile deaths by accident. September was the high month for the year with 183 deaths from this cause. There has not yet been time to analyze the September figures by counties, but the first eight months of the year have been so analyzed, showing 168 fewer deaths in eight months than the same period of 1931. But while there has been a falling off in totals, many counties report increased figures in such mortalities.

Twenty-one counties, or about one-third of all the counties in the state, report higher figures for 1932 than for 1931. For instance: Montgomery county shows 43 deaths in the first eight months against 31 in the same period last year. Perhaps the greatest falling off is in Allegheny county which reports only 164 for 1932 against 237 for the first eight months of 1931.

Other counties to show advances are Bucks, Cameron, Carbon, Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lawrence, Lehigh, Lycoming, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Perry, Potter, Tioga, Union, Warren and Wayne. The advances, however, in nearly all these counties are quite small.

No deaths from this cause are recorded in the first two-thirds of the year from these counties: Wyoming, Sullivan, Pike and Fulton. While these counties report a very low number: Cameron 2, Clinton 3, Elk 2, Forest 1, Snyder 2, Union 2 and Warren 1.

Among the more populous counties, York, Westmoreland, Schuylkill, Luzerne, Dauphin and Cambria make the best showing so far this year. The city of Philadelphia is down excepted to 10 per cent below 1931.

Christmas Seals

Make Rural Dental Clinics Possible

This Is One Of The Preventative Works Done By The Tuberculosis Society

Money paid for Christmas Seals and also as donations to help carry on the work of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society does considerable preventative work among the school children of the rural schools of the county. It is this money that makes it possible to maintain dental clinics, which in turn determine defects of the teeth and prevent the possibility of the defects becoming the source of some disease that would be most destructive to the life and welfare of these future citizens.

Pupils throughout the county in the first grade, receive this attention free. In other grades the pupils pay the small sum of ten cents.

Report of the work done in these clinics for the first two months of the present school year includes the following: Schools visited 27; pupils receiving dental attention 401; teeth extracted 255; cavities found 2810; pupils referred to their family dentists 253; abscessed teeth found 68; pupils found without tooth brushes 82; pupils found with perfect teeth 14.

The pupils with perfect teeth found in the schools are as follows: Ruth Barnett, No. 5 School, Perry Township; Billy Leslie, Aiken School, Slippery Rock Township; Katherine Hawk, Grace Palmer and Ruth Forbes, Fox School, Slippery Rock Township; Dorothy Strawhecker, Rocky Point School, Scott township; Margaret Maples No. 3 School, Perry Township; William Wimer, Wurtemburg school, Perry township; Richard Wike, Martha Wike and Chester Scott, Coalridge School, Little Beaver township; Betty Reise, and Dorothy Hohmann, Plain Grove School, Plain Grove Township; Katherine Forsythe, Brent School, Plain Grove township.

This is one of the many beneficial local health measures that cannot be continued unless the people of the county most generously purchase the Christmas seals and make further gifts to the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

The regular meeting of the J. R. Meek Bible class was held in the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday evening with seventeen present. Dr. S. A. Getty, local banker, seems to have shot the finest specimen of deer this season. Russell Wilson brought home a pretty specimen of the beautiful animal also. Others to get a buck were: Roy Cummings, Dan McQuiston, Clare Wagner, Leo Plotts and "Hub" Stewart.

LADIES AID.

The women of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will gather at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Kauffmann on West Neshannock street at the regular meeting tomorrow night.

Bradford Man Is

Named To Board

At Penn State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 6.—Ralph T. Zook, of Bradford, was appointed to the board of trustees of Pennsylvania State College, according to an announcement today from the governor's office.

He was named by Gov. Gifford Pinchot to succeed Mrs. Edna S. Chalfant, of Wilkinsburg, whose term expired.

As the farmers prosper, so prosper the Methodist rural churches, Rev. Dawber explained. The shakiness of the economic structure generally can be attributed to the paralysis of agriculture, he said.

Rev. Dawber, a member of President Hoover's commission on rural life, said the fate of the rural church depends largely upon the farmer's ability to meet his obligations and market his crops.

"The farmer's purchasing power has declined about 11 billions of dollars in the last 12 or 13 years," he declared. "Many rural churches have been forced to appeal to the board of home missions for financial assistance. The board now helps support about 4000 persons working in this field."

The 75 bishops and laymen attending the convention were informed by Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, resident head of the Methodist Episcopal church in the Philadelphia area, that the total decrease in world's service giving has amounted to about $10,000,000.

Despite the seriousness of the situation, Bishop Richardson, re-elected president of the board of home missions and church extension council, an optimistic note for the delegation.

"We shall continue to go forward in spite of the many difficulties which confront us," he declared.

Temple of Washington, who once represented Lawrence County was one of the 12 who voted against the repeal. Congressman Clyde Kelly of Allegheny County who is well known in New Castle voted against the repeal resolution also.

In addition to the four congressmen named above, the following eight members from Pennsylvania voted against the repeal resolution. Bidle of Huntingdon, Kinzer of Lancaster, Kurtz of Altoona, McFadden of Canton, (Pa.) Magrady of Mt. Carmel, Rich of Woolrich, Strong of Brookville and Stull of Johnstown.

In the new congress which may be called into special session in March, following the inauguration of President-Elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, Pennsylvania will have but thirty-four members instead of 36. How the new delegation will be divided on the question of repeal is not known.

Early Christmas Tree Orders Indicate That Cheer Will Be More Widespread This Year

Millions Of Firs, Cedars, Spruces And Pines Already En Route From Northern Forests To Firesides Of Nation

Selecting and cutting Christmas trees for market.

By OREN ARNOLD
Central Press Correspondent

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 6—Definite revival of national cheerfulness and hope has been reflected in the advance orders for Christmas trees this season. Before the last of the Thanksgiving turkey was eaten a small army of men were at work cutting, tying, stacking and shipping baby evergreens in anticipation of Santa's coming.

The demand for Yule trees, this December promises to exceed last year's orders by at least 20 per cent, authorities say.

The only reason seems to be that people everywhere are "feeling better." Many thousands of families that got along without the traditional symbol of eternal life last year and in 1930, except to dust off the boxes of tinsel and glass ornaments in the attic this year, and hang them once again. In short, many families believe that hard times are finally passing, and so the dealers in Yule trees expect more sales.

Early in November men entered the northern forests of baby trees and began marking those which were to be cut for shipment, and the actual process of moving them is now under way. The normal American demand requires that approximately 7,000,000 little firs, cedars, spruces and pines be moved into living rooms. In recent years the number has dropped off at least 2,000,000.

Some of the trees have to be sledded or hauled long distances before being packed into freight cars. And workmen have to dodge the great snowstorms which would put a stop to tree cutting and hauling in middle December. That's why the early start is made. Firs are most popular because they retain their fresh greenness longer and never shed leaves or "needles" in the living room.

Word was received here this afternoon of the death of Rev. Fr. Patrick E. Maher, of St. Francis Xavier church on California avenue, Pittsburgh, at his home at the rectory this morning. Father Maher was taken ill several days ago, and died this morning of a heart attack.

Some years ago, Father Maher was assistant at St. Mary's church of this city, under Rev. Fr. F. O'Shea, and had many friends here who are grieved to hear of his death.

Man Confesses To Automobile Theft

Admits Larceny Charge Of Butler Highway Officer; Held In Jail

Michael DeSantis, Youngstown, was sent to the Lawrence county jail last night to await the December term of criminal court, after entering a plea of guilty before Alderman O. H. P. Green to a charge of automobile larceny, filed by State Highway Patrolman H. E. Stevens of Butler, after Stevens arrested him at Butler yesterday.

DeSantis confessed that he stole the sedan of Dr. T. M. Shaffer, Euclid avenue, from the corner of E. Washington and Spruce streets, this city, on Sunday night. He was in the Shaffer car when officers apprehended him.

It is said that DeSantis is at the present time under $1,000 bond for a similar charge in Youngstown.

SEA ELEPHANT LOSES 800 POUNDS IN MONTH

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 6.—Girls, here's a reducing mark to shoot at!

Jonah, the giant sea elephant at the St. Louis Zoo has resumed his regular eating habits after losing 800 pounds in the past month. Once each year Jonah goes into hibernation for a month and abstains altogether from food. Jonah weighed 4,000 pounds when he began his fast and now weighs 3,200.

NURSERIES ACTIVE

The contractor who cuts Yule trees, no longer has a monopoly on the profits that accrue in this old Christmas custom. The nurseryman too, is edging into the picture rapidly.

Each year, since about 1927 nurseriesmen declare, more and more thousands of people have been planting their own fir or other evergreen trees, right in the front yard, and the living Christmas tree steadily is gaining in popularity. In another five years, it is believed, this new method of celebrating Christmas will double the total number of trees in America each season for the living trees is an addition, not a replacement, of the interior cut tree.

The only reason seems to be that people everywhere are "feeling better." China And Japan In League Clash On Hunter Story

Chinese Delegate Assails Japan For Recent Massacre Of 2,700 Peasants

CHARGES DENIED BY JAP DELEGATE

Japanese Delegate To Geneva Claims Hunter's Report Very Incorrect

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Dec. 6.—China and Japan clashed before the League of Nations assembly today over the dispatch sent by Edward Hunter, International News Service staff correspondent in Manchuria, confirming the massacre of 2,700 Chinese peasants near Fushun by Japanese troops.

As part of an impassioned appeal asking the league assembly to find Japan guilty of violating the League Covenant, the Kellogg-Briand Pact and the Nine-Power Treaty, Dr. W. Yen of China read before the assembly a summary of Hunter's dispatch, closing with the words:

"No further comment is necessary. I ask in the name of humanity that the league assembly protest with all its energy against such massacring of our civilian population by the Japanese."

Verbal Battle

Yosuke Matsukawa, Japanese delegate, sprang to his feet when Dr. Yen had finished and deviated from what he prepared to deny that the massacre had occurred.

"The Chinese have a way of exaggerating and of sometimes passing on their exaggerations," Matsukawa said.

"This happened in the case of the International News Service correspondent," Mr. Edward Hunter, who went to Fushun in November, long after the events described, and got all his information from one source.

"He went only to Fushun, where he talked with one foreign missionary, whose account of the events he hurried off to cable."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In his Fushun dispatch, which was filed from Shantung, across the great wall of China to escape the Japanese censorship, Hunter described in detail each of the villages he visited. His dispatch included eye-witness stories from survivors and first-hand accounts of the evidence he found.)

Those in charge last night expressed pleasure concerning the friends who subscribed to the fund.

The work is continuing strong and another report meeting will take place next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Methodists Of New Castle District Assemble In Epworth Church Monday Evening

Monday afternoon Bishop A. W. Leonard of the Erie conference paid an official visit to the New Castle district Monday, and representatives of all the churches of the district were present at the afternoon session, which was presided over by the bishop.

Dr. C. G. Farr, superintendent of the district gave a most inspiring address on "Evangelism" and church plans were discussed in conference.

The members of the Tau Delta class of the church served a banquet in the church dining room for the delegates.

The evening session was a mass meeting of ministers and congregations and the church auditorium was filled.

Bishop Leonard delivered the address, which dealt with Evangelism, and he called all the ministers of the district to the altar and a season of prayer was held, after which the ministers sang.

The Epworth church choir, with Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle at the organ, were in charge of the musical part of the evening's program.

PENN'S VARSITY—Here's Pennsylvania's basketball team, ready for eastern intercollegiate league battles.

Thirteen Report For Basketball At Senior High

Thirteen Floormen Report To Coach Bridenbaugh For First Practice Of Year

WILL OPEN UP WITH ALUMNI

Thirteen candidates for the New Castle High School varsity basketball team turned out yesterday afternoon at Senior High floor for the first practice of the season under Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh.

Of the men reporting yesterday three of them are veterans, Johnny Uram, Elmer "Bus" Reiber and Jno. Teplica. The following will fight for places on the team this year—Dick McIlwaine, Archie Ridley, Rocco Tomalello, Joe Wisosky, Brownie Ostrosky, Raymond George, Joe Hnat, Russell Battley, Elmer Waino, William Patton and more than likely Walter Kominic.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, announced today that the opening basketball game of the season would take place on the night of December 16 with the New Castle team meeting the Alumni. The Westinghouse High team of Pittsburgh has been scheduled for the night of December 27, it was announced. Union High is anxious to meet New Castle on Wednesday December 21.

Daily practices will be held from now on and it is a safe bet that New Castle will be able to give the Section Three teams a run for their money this year, although Bridenbaugh must first develop a dependable center to fill the shoes left vacant by Andy Lasky and the boots left empty by Nickie Uram.

Ten Games On Geneva Grid Card

BEAVER FALLS, Dec. 6.—Ten games, seven of them home encounters for Reeves Stadium here, have been signed for the 1933 Geneva College grid schedule. Director of Athletics Arthur C. Edgecombe released his program yesterday and admitted that there still exists a possibility that one or two dates may be shifted. At the same time he took the occasion to deny that the Covenanter authorities were considering a successor to Harster in the role of head football mentor. Edgecombe declared that as far as he knows at this time that Geneva will have the same coaching regime which has met with much success in the past three years. The tentative schedule:

Sept. 22—California Normal at home.

Sept. 30—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh.

Oct. 6—Thiel at home.

Oct. 13—Westminster at home.

Oct. 20—Waynesburg at home.

Oct. 27—St. Vincent at home.

Nov. 4—Davis-Elkins at home.

Nov. 11—St. Thomas at Scranton.

Nov. 18—Grove City at home.

Nov. 25—Duquesne at Pittsburgh, pending.

Nevers-Hanley Mentioned For Stanford Post

Ernie Nevers, Assistant To "Pop" Warner, May Get Job On The Coast

DICK HANLEY IS ALSO MENTIONED

By RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6.—A lot of color and personality will be lost to Pacific coast football with the departure of that grand old warrior, Glenn Scobey (Pop) Warner, not to mention probably the most deceptive and intricate grid offense ever devised by mortal brain.

The "old fox," he's 61 now, is leaving Stanford, his berth for the past nine years, to pioneer in new fields, Temple University, in Philadelphia.

Tired Of Alumni

Pop got tired of the Alumni, especially in Southern California, snapping at his heels, and just up and signed a juicy contract dangled before him by Temple.

"It'll be fun," he grumbles, "taking over a new school; one that's coming along athletically."

With tears in their eyes, members of the 1932 Stanford football team explained that "Pop" had turned down their plea to remain as coach. They called at his home where "Pop" is fighting off a cold, and "Pop" wept too as he said: "It's too late, boys. I've already signed a contract with Temple."

Ernie Nevers, assistant football coach, and one time great Stanford fullback and professional player, loomed as the most likely successor to "Pop."

Hanley Mentioned

(International News Service)

EVANSTON, Ill., Dec. 6.—Dame rumor prepared another tasty tidbit for football fans today. It was whispered about the Northwestern University campus that Dick Hanley, coach of the wildcats, has received an offer to take the vacated job of Glenn S. "Pop" Warner at Stanford. Hanley refused to comment on the rumor.

Golf League Men To Meet Thursday

Invite All Golfers Of City To Join Them In Social Evening At Muny Course

Members of the New Castle Golf League, as well as all golfers in the city who are interested, have been extended an invitation by officers of the New Castle Golf League to enjoy a social evening at cards in the Municipal club house, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

At the get-together which wound up the golf season in September, the members of the various teams in the league voted to meet once a month during the winter season, and the meeting Thursday evening is a result of this resolution.

Any golfer in the city is invited to join with the golf league members and Muny golfers at this time.

"Pop" Warner To Coach At Temple

Former Pitt Coach Will Take Over Five-Year Contract At Temple U.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6.—Temple University made its supreme bid for "big-time" football honors Monday by engaging Glenn S. "Pop" Warner of Stanford University. Warner formally resigned his post with the Pacific Coast school effective Monday just a few hours previous to the announcement by Temple officials.

The announcement was made by Earl R. Yeomans, graduate manager of athletics at Temple. He did not disclose the amount of salary.

However, the contract with Warner, it is understood from a reliable source, is for 5 years with a salary of $15,000 annually with maintenance.

Harvey Harmon May Coach Yale, Rumor In East

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Harry Stuhldreher, famous quarterback of Notre Dame's four horsemen in 1924, will be selected as Fordham University's 1933 football coach when the Athletic Board meets tomorrow, according to a persistent but unconfirmed report today.

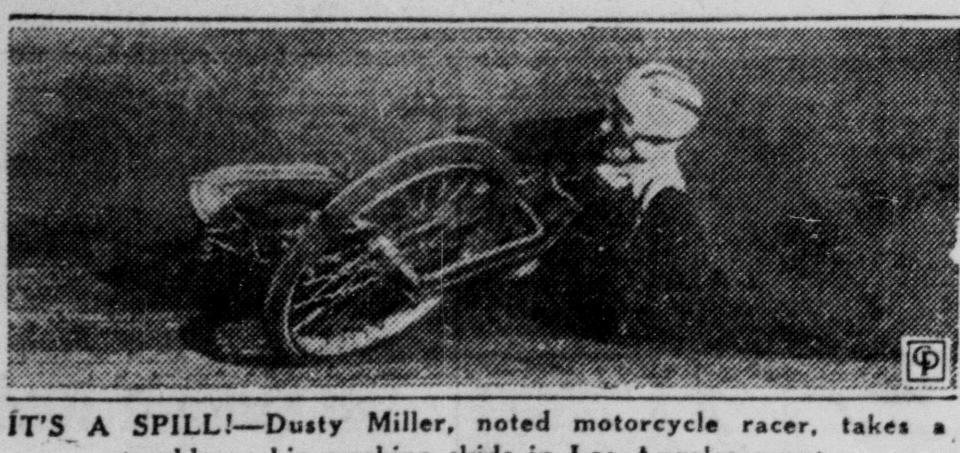

Stuhldreher's contract at Villanova, where he has coached for the past eight years, expired last week. He has conferred twice with Fordham authorities.

It was rumored Harmon had received two attractive offers, one of them believed to be from Yale University.

Seek Opponent For Ross Fields

World War Vets Association Hope To Stage Show Monday

World War Veterans Association of Lawrence county are casting for an opponent for Ross Fields, the diminutive pugilistic performer of Wierton, W. Va.

Baby Face Matheson, conqueror of Johnny Edwards was offered the battle late last night but refused the opportunity owing to Fields being a southpaw.

Only a few nights ago Fields and Willie Davis put on a sensational scrap at Youngstown. Owing to Davies eye having been cut badly he would be unable to box Fields here.

The veterans plan to stage the show next Monday night at the Castle Bowl and have decided to use Homer Gray against Merle Gibson if Homer cares to take on Gibson.

Owing to the demand by the fans for a return bout it is probable that Marty Toukamou will clash with Young Terry in the six round semi-final.

Tommy Kilrain, a rugged Akronite has issued a challenge to Pee Wee Carney at 128 pounds and it looks as though four bouts of slambang milling will be on tap next Monday.

Snizek is Good

Morrison and Snizek have been holding down the guard posts. Snizek was one of the best defensive players in the Class B circles last year and Morrison was a forward, but is filling in nicely as a running guard. Monico, White, Hughes and Allen are other outstanding candidates for the team, and good enough to make the team.

There are 15 on the squad at the present time and Coach Boyd is looking forward to a cut in the squad, but who will be dropped off is hard to tell. Coach Boyd would welcome any suggestions as to the cutting of his squad, as all of the players are about on a par.

Union would like to open with New Castle for Wednesday night, December 21. The game would be a good opener for both teams.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, the one-woman track and field team from Dallas, Texas, has run her last race, put her last shot, cleared her last high jump bar, etc., etc., as an amateur.

That is, it's "taps" for the two-time Olympic champion if the edict of the National A. A. U. announced today by secretary Daniel J. Ferris stands up. Louis D. Benedetto, the fiery chairman of the registration committee of the southern association, which has control of "The Babe," is expected to have plenty to say about the disbaring of the world's greatest woman athlete.

An advertisement, which appeared in last Sunday's papers, prompted the A. A. U.'s action. It contained a picture of Miss Didrikson, hurling.

Charges Denied

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 6.—Efforts will be started immediately to have Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, versatile Olympic women's champion, reinstated as an amateur, it was announced today by Col. M. J. Jacobs, athletic director for the insurance firm which employs her.

Emphatically denying that she or her firm had extended permission for the use of her name and picture in a newspaper advertisement, Miss Didrikson expressed amazement at the action of the National Amateur Athletic Union in disqualifying her.

She said she allowed an automobile company to take a picture of her, but expressly forbade them to use it. She denied having made statements attributed to her in the advertisement.

Old Style Cards For Christmas Bow To Changing Whims

Holly And Mistletoe Obsolete In Expressing Season's Greeting

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Shades of Yuletide! What has happened to the spirit of Christmas?

None are the days when a tasteful spray of holly, or maybe even a daring bit of mistletoe, were considered the seasonal symbols for greeting cards. This year everything from a tea cup to a cuckoo clock and from a high hat to a coffee percolator appear with nonchalant assurance of their appropriateness. And, of course, with sentiments to match.

For instance, the aforesaid topper announces: "Here's one that's no slouch—Merry Christmas," and the familiar breakfast utensil insists that it is "Still percolating the same good wishes."

The Sporting Spirit

The present vogue of cards to suit the individual recipient largely reflects young—and older—America's fondness for sport. A pair of golf hose, therefore, presents "A couple of wishes you won't have to change—Merry Christmas, Happy New Year."

A football cheer leader with exaggerated megaphone, a ski jumper, or a bobsled team, a yacht scudding before the breeze, all present characteristic greetings.

Then, too, various hobbies each have their special cards. A perfect hand for contract bridge explains that its good wishes are "A good deal."

And For Radio Fans

Or if you are sending your seasonal message to the sort of person who prefers to spend his evenings at home by the family radio, there are appropriate cards for that, too, with permission of the copyright owners."

The so-called depression is doing things to the 1932 Christmas cards, too. A stock ticker may not be exactly what a lot of people think of as a bearer of good tidings, but it's different when it appears on a Christmas booklet appropriately wreathed in holly and promises that it will "never be caught short on wishing you a Merry Christmas."

THREE CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES AT 'Y' TONIGHT

Church Basketball league teams will swing into action again tonight on the Y. M. C. A. basketball floor.

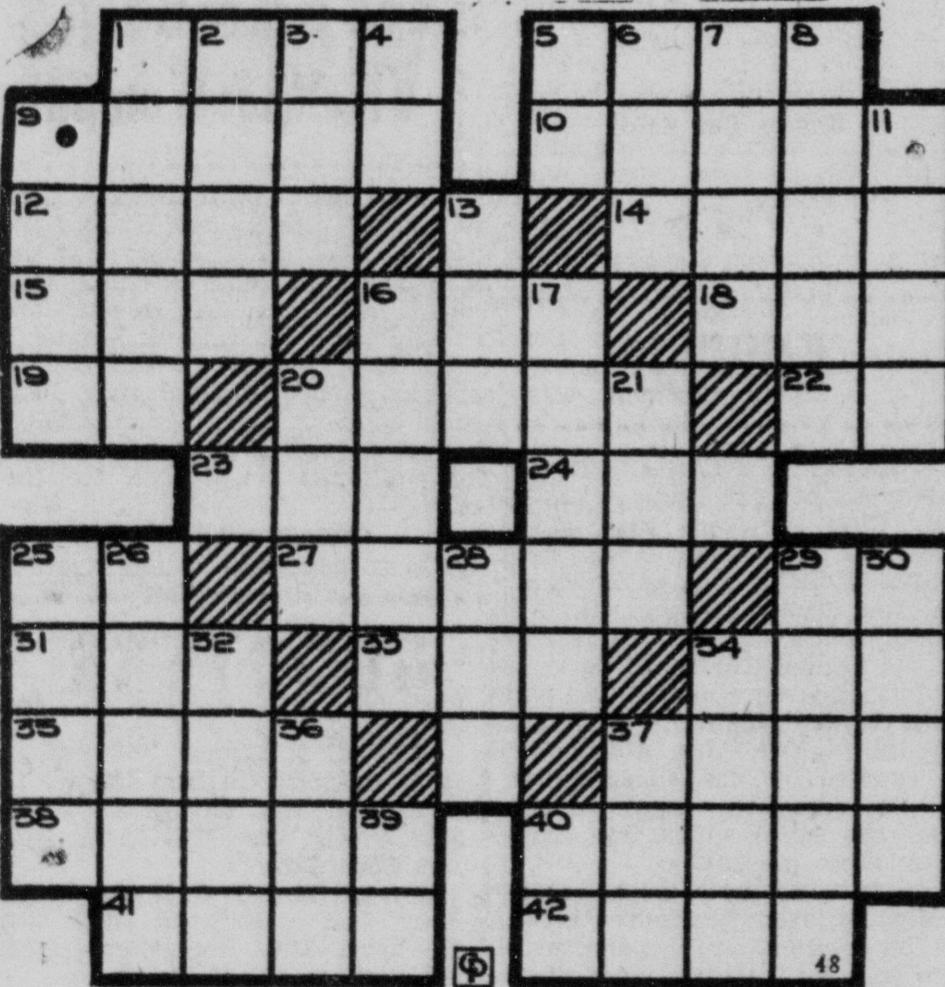

The schedule follows:

First Baptist vs. Second U. P. (B), Sacred Hearts vs. Tifereth Israel (A), and Tifereth Israel vs. Mahoningtown Presbyterian (B).

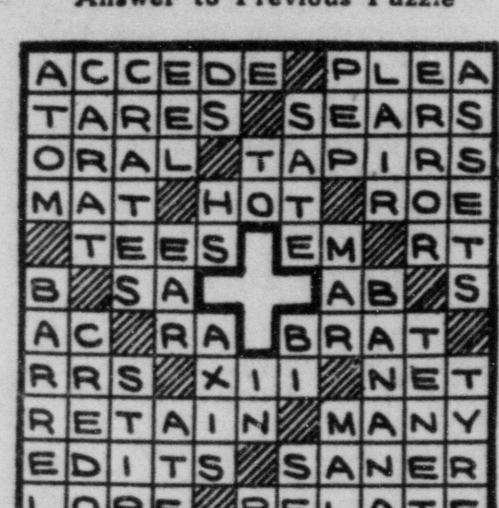

The A loop is headed by St. Michaels and Sacred Hearts, First Christian and First Baptist are deadlocked for leadership in B division of the league.

France is considering reducing her standing army and inaugurating a militia, similar to the system used in the United States.

SHORTS SQUEEZED IN TRANSACTIONS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market today recovered strongly from the sinking spell which developed late yesterday when the prohibition repeal resolution was defeated in the House of Representatives.

Stocks were strong from the opening and ran up from 1 to more than 3 points in short order. One exception was Safeway stores, which slumped more than 4 points to a new low. Coppers continued under pressure.

The shorts were squeezed as traders bought stocks with more confidence due to the market's resistance to selling on the prohibition news yesterday.

Favorite bear targets in the last few weeks ran up sharply. U. S. Steel preferred spurted more than 3 points on a few transactions while the common was strong.

Other outstanding issues were American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Auburn, Atchison, Union Pacific, Du Pont, American Can and Case Threshing. Rails were strong as a group.

Rallying tendencies were evident in other markets. Sterling continued its improvement while wheat and cotton were higher. Bonds were strong.

Stock Market Shows Recovery

Stocks Make Gains At The Opening Of Stock Market This Morning

SHORTS SQUEEZED IN TRANSACTIONS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market today recovered strongly from the sinking spell which developed late yesterday when the prohibition repeal resolution was defeated in the House of Representatives.

Stocks were strong from the opening and ran up from 1 to more than 3 points in short order. One exception was Safeway stores, which slumped more than 4 points to a new low. Coppers continued under pressure.

The shorts were squeezed as traders bought stocks with more confidence due to the market's resistance to selling on the prohibition news yesterday.

Favorite bear targets in the last few weeks ran up sharply. U. S. Steel preferred spurted more than 3 points on a few transactions while the common was strong.

Other outstanding issues were American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Auburn, Atchison, Union Pacific, Du Pont, American Can and Case Threshing. Rails were strong as a group.

Rallying tendencies were evident in other markets. Sterling continued its improvement while wheat and cotton were higher. Bonds were strong.

Elephant Book
Suddenly Gets
Big Popularity

And In Such Cases What's Distressed Librarian To Do, We Ask You?

Some emergencies take even a public library by surprise. For instance, without any warning at all a crowd of boys and girls swooped into the Mahoningtown library last Thursday and every one of them wanted books about elephants. Imagine the librarian's embarrassment!

For hours that afternoon and evening came one request after another, each one being for elephant books. It seemed that one of the Mahoning school classes was studying that animal and the students were told to learn all there was to be learned concerning its appearance, habits, etc., (and possible whether there really are such things as pink elephants.)

The librarian decided to be prepared for the next such onrush and so has brought many volumes of elephant books from the main library.

All of which will be fine unless the pupils get an assignment on kangaroos or—ostriches!

WHAT A MAN DOES

With his time is what life does to a man.

With his money is a real measure of his religion.

With his opportunity is a test of his respect for responsibility.

With his leisure is the measure of his education.

With his friendships is a test of his fitness for heaven.

With his own business is not his own business.

With his difficulties is the explanation of his achievements.

They are proud in humility, proud in that they are not proud.—Burton

The Best Security
On Earth Is Earth
Itself

And the best part of the earth is where HOMES are. Because we all must have some place to shelter us, the home becomes most valuable.

Every dollar invested in a home at the present time will be worth more than a dollar in less than a year from now.

And if anyone wants to place money in a safe investment—no better security has been found in over 3,000 years.
